Evacuation Alert Issued – 19 July 2021

We have now received information that an official Evacuation Alert has been issued for our community. This is an Alert which means you should prepare for a possible Evacuation Order. Please advise any guests that may be staying in your unit.

Please read the Evacuation Alert Inkaneep document that is included with this notice.

It is recommended that you prepare yourself just in case an order comes in and have your grab and go bag ready, (which should include several days of clothing, toiletries and medications), your emergency plan, copies of important documents and important mementos.

We ask that you stay calm and be prepared.
